

RELIGIOUS STUDIES WORKSHOP SERIES

V. TRANSCRIPTION TOOLS

Gabriella Voss

Using a wide range of qualitative methods, Religious Studies scholars and students often spend a considerable amount of time planning, conducting, and ultimately transcribing interviews. This can be a very rewarding experience, but also quite frustrating, as it tends to take much more time than initially planned – especially the latter part. In this workshop we will look in detail at one specific transcription tool and discuss the many advantages and few disadvantages of this “external help.”

Gabriella Voss is a Ph.D. candidate at the Department of Religious Studies. Her doctoral thesis is on "The Concept of Healing in Contemporary Dance." She holds M.A. degrees in European Ethnology and East Asian Economy and Society.
